Detroit Electric

Upkeep cost of the Detroit Electric is lower per mile than any automobile on the market.

Ninety miles per battery charge is an average circumstance with Detroit owners.

No Detroit Electric ever "stalls" on the road because of mechanical troubles.

Light in weight, eight thousand miles is not uncommon tire mileage.

A real Automobile—it has power and rugged strength unequalled in any other pleasure car.

Sumptuous in appointments, luxurious in riding comfort, agreeably free from odor or noise, it is the ultimate car of today.
